

James Dixon

President Retail Business Unit

James Dixon is responsible for the Retail Business Unit across the Asia Pacific region.

James leads the development of supply chain solutions for customers in three key industry sectors: Food and Liquor; Megastores and Express and Household and Consumer. He is also responsible for country operations in New Zealand.

The Retail Business Unit partners with key retail customers to drive continuous improvement in their supply chains in the flourishing retail sector across our Asia Pacific region.

James joined Linfox in 1998 as a site manager and progressed quickly to senior management roles. He was Vice President Beverages, Asia Pacific before taking on leadership of the Retail Business Unit.

James enhanced his strategic skills by completing his Masters Business Administration, Executive Development at Darden Business School and the Advanced Management Program at Harvard Business School.

James enjoys scuba diving, golf and spending time with his wife and three children.
